SPEAKERS FOR COMMENCEMENT ADDRESSES HAVE BEEN SECURED

Men of Wide Reputation Will Speak at Finals
Other Features of Final Week

The Public Activities Committee of the Faculty has arranged for the addresses to be delivered here at finals. Men known throughout the country have been secured for the four addresses, and the program for the week promises to be of unusual interest.

Sunday, June 4, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached at eleven o'clock by Rev. A. M. Fraser, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Staunton. John H. Finley, LL. D., president of the University of the State of New York, will deliver the educational address Wednesday morning, June 7, and at night the alumni address will be delivered by G. A. Dovell, of Williamsburg. On Thursday, June 8th at 11 a. m. Martin W. Williams, of Pearisburg, Va., will make the commencement address. The usual dances will be held each night of final week and the two literary societies will hold their joint contests Monday and Tuesday nights. The program as now arranged is as follows:

Sunday, June 4th, at 11 a. m. Baccalaureate Sermon.

Monday, June 5th, at 8 p. m. Intersociety contest in debate in Chapel, and at ten o'clock Kappa Alpha German.

Tuesday, June 6th. Senior Class celebration in the afternoon. At 8 p. m. intersociety contests in oratory and declamation, and the Pi Kappa Alpha German at ten o'clock.

Wednesday, June 7th, at 11 a. m. Educational address. At 8 p. m., address before the Alumni, followed by the annual alumni banquet. The Theta Delta Chi German will be given at 10:30.

Thursday, June 8th at 11 a. m. Degrees and Honors will be awarded in Chapel and the Commencement Address will be delivered. The German club will give the Final ball at night.

A few details of the program have not yet been worked out, but it is understood that some amusing and interesting features will be added by the senior class and others in charge.

A department of forestry will be established at the University of Virginia next year.

RANDOLPH-MACON HALTS WINNING STREAK OF INDIANS AT ASHLAND

Errors Cause Downfall of Orange and Black and Place Jackets in Lead for Cup

Errors at critical stages of the game were responsible for Randolph-Macon's 4 to 3 victory over William and Mary at Ashland Saturday. Tying the score at three-all in the sixth frame the Jackets made the necessary counter on a muff at the plate, Butterworth scoring on Cogbill's infield tap in the last half of the ninth.

Garnett pitched one of the best games of his career and the Indians lost one of the "hard-st-to-lose" contests of the Eastern Virginia series. "Big Chief" fanned thirteen Yellow Jackets and yielded six hits.

William and Mary scored twice in the third inning. With two out Geddy singled and stole second. Heflin came across with the needed safety, scoring Geddy. Bob Newton doubled, Heflin coming in from the keystone sack with the second tally. Newton ended this stanza, being caught between second and third.

In the fourth inning the Indians touched Marston for three hits, but failed to score. M. Williams, first up, singled and took second on Moncure's safety. Stryker was out on a fly to center; Moncure was caught off first. With two down P. Williams drove a fast grounder down the third base line, to left field, but by fast fielding Savage threw M. Williams out at home. Zehmer scored in the fifth as the result of his hit, Garnett's sacrifice and Heflin's safety. This ended the Indians' tallying.

HOW THEY TIED THE SCORE

The Ashlanders counted once in their half of the fifth. Butterworth singled and took third on Brittingham's double. Cogbill lay down a bunt towards first base and the Jacket catcher scored. Cogbill, who was safe on M. Williams error, went down. With one man out Woodfin and Savage failed to connect safely.

D. Lancaster opened Randolph-Macon's half of the sixth with a single, and stole second. Moss fanned. Finney singled and Lancaster scored, when Newton's throw in got away from Zehmer. Butterworth was safe on first when Zehmer let his third strike go by. Finney scored

RICHMOND ALUMNI PROPOSE CHANGE IN ATHLETIC SYSTEM

Communication From Member of the Association
Shows Plan Presented to Board

Believing that the present athletic system at William and Mary does not meet the needs of the college students, the William and Mary alumni in Richmond, at a meeting in March, adopted a resolution requesting the Board of Visitors (1), to add a course in school athletics to the curriculum; (2), to give credit toward degrees for this course; (3), to make this course compulsory for all normal students; (4), to withhold credits for this course from those students who do not do a prescribed amount of athletic work at college; (5), to put this work and the work of the college physician in charge of one man; (6), to put all athletic teams taking part in intercollegiate contests in charge of an athletic coach. This request was presented to the Board some weeks ago but was referred to their June meeting, when it is understood some action will be taken.

William and Mary men now teaching in this state realize the great need for training while at college that would have given them a knowledge of school athletics. They are face to face with the fact that athletics and play activities in their schools cannot be neglected and that some training along this line is necessary if a man wishes to have the highest success in school work. This is one reason for putting in a course in school athletics. Because a boy plays football or baseball at college is no indication that he is qualified to handle the athletics and play activities of school children. This work is being recognized all over the state and William and Mary should lead the way in preparing her prospective teachers for this work.

Another reason for suggesting a change in William and Mary's athletic system is that the proposed change will make it possible for all students in the college to take part in games and athletic work.

The proposed plan will also give the college physician an opportunity to increase the practice of preventive medicine among the college students.

Davidson and Northwestern have adopted the point system in connection with the holding of offices in student organizations.

DOCTOR WILSON DELIVERS STEREOPHONIC LECTURE ON SHAKESPEARE

Enthusiastic Audience Delighted with Entertainment Given Under Auspices of E. & C. A.

On Tuesday night, in recognition of the tercentennial of Shakespeare's death, Dr. Wilson gave a very interesting lecture in Chapel on the poet's life and works. This lecture was made more attractive in that it was illustrated with many stereopticon views.

Dr. Wilson first spoke of Shakespeare's surroundings and showed many scenes around Shakespeare's birth-place. He also illustrated vividly English countrylife. Then he showed different views of theatres in Shakespeare's day, illustrating their simplicity and attractiveness. Later Shakespeare's appearance was spoken of and here copies of all the important pictures and busts of him were flashed on the screen.

Finally Dr. Wilson discussed actors of Shakespeare and scenes from his plays. Different conceptions of Falstaff, Caliban and others were shown very clearly. Here, much to the delight of his audience, Dr. Wilson impersonated one of his characters on the screen in that expressive sentence, "Peter, Peter, bring me my fan, Peter." In all, the lecture left the audience feeling as if they had been paying a short visit to Shakespeare himself back in the sixteenth century.

Y. M. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT

Those members of the Student-body who heard the Hampton Quartet during its last visit to Williamsburg will be delighted to hear that the same quartet will be in Williamsburg again. This time it comes at the request of the College Y. M. C. A., to give an entertainment in Chapel. This quartet is one of the best of its kind in the country and its inimitable entertainments are always worth hearing.

As an added attraction they are bringing with them a moving picture machine with some excellent "movies."

The entertainment will be given on Monday night, May 15. The proceeds will go to the Y. M. C. A.

Brown recently dropped fifty-one men from the roll for low scholarship standing. Not one of them was a member of an athletic team.

TUESDAY, MAY 9, 1916

It gladdened the hearts of everyone to see the basketball cup in its proper place Monday morning. The inability of the secretary to obtain a quorum at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Intercollegiate Association caused its delay in reaching us. But it is here at last, thanks to Mr. C. A. Taylor. May the other one not be merely a shadow that Professor Keeble saw!

Some one has wisely remarked, "Throw away your hammer and buy a horn."

THE PROMISED LIST

The two weeks are at last past and here are the subscriptions that still remain unpaid. The business manager hopes it will be much smaller at its next appearance:

R. A. Babb, Tomlinson, Dalhouse, R. R. Doss, C. C. Graves, S. B. Hall, Lassiter, W. W. Nichols, Nottingham, G. G. Sommers, B. O. Rocklin, R. C. Taylor, J. F. Wilson, Waddill, F. A. Carpenter, W. W. Forehand.

LITERARY MAGAZINE STAFF ELECTED

The Phoenix and Philomathean Literary Societies at their regular meetings last Saturday night chose the Literary Magazine staff for 1916-17.

H. G. Chandler of the Phoenix was elected editor-in-chief, and J. W. Robertson of the Philomathean was selected for Business Manager. The other members of the staff chosen are: Assistant editor, J. P. Ingle, Phoenix; Alumni editor, P. N. Deering, Philomathean; Exchange editor, F. T. Joyner, Philomathean; assistant business manager, O. W. French, Phoenix.

The amendment was again proposed to provide for the election of the editor-in-chief of the Magazine from the student body, but a second time it failed to receive the required majority for adoption.

NOTED OF THE INDIANS

Hampden-Sidney "delenda est" tomorrow. By defeating the Tigers the Indians will tie for the cup with Randolph-Macon. In that event the tie will probably be played off in Richmond Monday.

Really it is not good form for William and Mary to win the baseball cup without tying the Jackets first. In 1911 and 1914 the same teams were tied and the Orange and Black, of course, won when the tie was played off.

Garnett deserved the game at Ashland. The big boy worked hard, but his support was shaky. Maybe that was partly due to the "prep school" rooting of the Randolph-Macon supporters.

Had the Indians won, the championship would have been cinched regardless of the Tiger game here, as Hampden-Sidney beat Richmond Saturday 10 to 2.

Everybody to the rally tonight and make it a hummer.

It's a hard, hard proposition to win a baseball game in Ashland. But Randolph-Macon finds it very, very difficult to win in Richmond when the tie is played off.

Taking the team as a whole the Indians look more like champions than do the Jackets. We must have that cup.

Three of the Jackets victories have been won by a lone tally. The ninth inning rally stuff, however, won't last any longer.

Trim the Tigers tomorrow and then let the cry of every true son of William and Mary be "On to Richmond" Monday.

It was fast fielding that enabled the Jackets to keep the Indians from scoring in the fourth when the Orange and Black ripped out three hits and drove Marston to cover.

Big Chief fanned seven in a row in the fifth, sixth and seventh, yet he lost.

The Tigers have tasted victory and will be out for blood Wednesday. And the Indians have tasted defeat and want revenge.

It's right funny, isn't it, how that ball got mixed up in that spectator in left field so that Newton had to pull the spectator away. Or do you call it funny?

Don't forget Hampden-Sidney, but make them wish to forget us by five o'clock Wednesday.

Beat the Tigers!

from third on Brittingham's fly to left, tying the score. M. Lancaster struck out for the third time.

The Indians opened the eighth with Geddy's single. Heflin sacrificed. Geddy was caught, a moment later, however, between third and second. Newton was safe on first on a fielder's choice. M. Williams was out on a fly to center. Garnett fanned three in a row in the Jacket's half.

Stryker drew a walk in the ninth, but Moncure and P. Williams popped up to the infield. Zehmer was hit by Woodfin, who had relieved Marston in the fourth. Garnett ended the frame when he struck out.

THE WINNING RUN

Butterworth began the last half of the ninth with a single. On a wild pitch he went to second. Brittingham lay down a bunt to Garnett, which Garnett held too long. Pinch-hitter Leftwich drove one to Heflin, who fumbled, missing a chance for a double play, thus loading the bases. Cogbill bunted and Butterworth scored as described above ending the game.

COLLEGE COMMENT

Lawrence College does not have a varsity baseball team. Baseball does not receive the support of the students financially and track work takes its place.

At the intercollegiate rifle match just concluded under the auspices of National Rifle Association, the Michigan Agricultural College team made a total score of 12,998 out of a possible 13,000. Washington State finished second with 12,997.

Yale has gone into spring football practice with a will that indicates something will be doing next year when Harvard is met. Harvard will have back only two of the eleven men who started the game last fall.

The freshman class at Vassar has to send out written announcements of meetings in order to get the class together.

The oldest college graduate known is Hon. Stephen Williams, of Newark, N. J., of Union college. He is a member of the class of 1837 and has celebrated 77 anniversaries of his class.

The baseball team at the University of Texas is captained by a one-armed man, Dick Hoover. Last year he accepted 105 chances without a wobble which is pretty good fielding even for a two-armed man.

EMORY AND HENRY WINS IN ORATORY

The annual Virginia State Inter-collegiate Oratorical contest was held in the chapel at Washington and Lee University, Friday, May 5th. Eight institutions in all were represented, Washington and Lee, Emory and Henry, Randolph-Macon, University of Virginia, Hampden-Sidney, Roanoke College, Richmond College and William and Mary.

M. L. Masinter, secretary of the association, made all arrangements for the event, and R. N. Latture of Washington and Lee presided at the oratorical competition. The gold medal offered to the winning contestants was won by J. A. Morrow of Emory and Henry. "The Ultimate Man of the Hour" was the subject of the winner's oration. Mr. Morrow is a senior at Emory and Henry and holds the position of head of the Department of Public Speaking at that college. Fred Broad of Roanoke college was given second honor.

I. W. Robertson represented William and Mary and had as the subject of his oration "The Protectorate." It was Robertson's initial trial in intercollegiate oratory and he still has the opportunity to become another one of William and Mary's state medalists.

The contest next year will be held at Emory and Henry.

DR. GREENE SPEAKS

Dean John Greene, of Colgate University made a short talk in Chapel last Thursday, having "Efficiency and Influence" as his theme. Dr. Greene urged the students to make the best of their college years, because it would increase their efficiency and strengthen their influence. Mentioning a number of leaders in the different professions, he showed that the basis of their success was college training. "Roosevelt, Hughes and Wilson, probable candidates for the next presidential election, are all college graduates, efficient and influential."

DR. CALHOUN TO GO TO FLORIDA

Dr. John C. Calhoun was recently chosen as one of the lay commissioners to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, which meets in Orlando, Fla., May 18th. He was selected by the Norfolk Presbytery at its session in Suffolk some days ago. This is quite an honor which has been conferred upon Dr. Calhoun and he will leave for Orlando about the 17th.
